Deare friend and bro: in y<sup>e</sup> vnderstandable truth in which is vnderstandable sound, that never dies, I often times remember thee, and y<sup>e</sup> dayes and times of refreshments, which we had and did in joye, and at this time my heart is full of y<sup>e</sup> love of god to wards thee, in which I devoutly salute thee with thy deare wife and children y<sup>e</sup> whole and all
ber by this thou may vnderstand, I am verie well and in way blessed by y<sup>e</sup> name of y<sup>e</sup> god of heauen who is our vnderstander, by sea and land, and is glorified now and y<sup>e</sup> present hath immensely appeared amongst vs at this halfe yearly meeting, which did beginning on y<sup>e</sup>. 6. day of this instant and ended this morning, and many friends from many parts of y<sup>e</sup> nation, and a verie sweet heavenly time, and y<sup>e</sup> Lords power was offer all and things is generally well, as to truth asdares but verie dangerous times, for y<sup>e</sup> English in this coun-trie for being robbed and murthered, and great feare of y<sup>e</sup> Spanish arising, I am now bound to god for y<sup>e</sup> north. I have beene travelling south and west, y<sup>e</sup> did meet with the: but soon at home and speak to him, and desired him to visit y<sup>e</sup> nation and in a little time he did, I have met with my bro.
John hee liues with one called y<sup>e</sup> Countess of Mayes about ten miles from Dublin, I hoped to be at this meeting againe about two months hence I desire a fewe lines from thee, I remember thou speake to me about some fellow or brother but y<sup>e</sup> rattles are soe vnseasonable things vnseasonable I did and did for beare soe in the way I rest
